Sunday Mornings at 10 am

NOVEMBER 3: NEVER TURNING BACK

On April 19, 2020, Rev. Nic offered a service titled Never Turning Back. One year later, a part two was offered. Now four and a half years since the original, Rev. Nic will reflect on the courageous journey we have been on in the years that have passed, the threshold we will cross in the coming days, and the future that is before us. On this day in which we will hold our 57th Annual Congregational Meeting, we will cast forward a vision for justice worthy of 57 more.

NOVEMBER 10: E PLURIBUS, PLURIBUS

UUCCI's vision is to be a beacon for diverse religious thought and courageous action. In a word this a vision of pluralism. Interfaith community building and the work of justice are two sides of the same coin. To build bridges is to fight for justice. To live courageously is to foster a world where all cultures, religions, and life is celebrated. To conclude our six-part 2024 Fall Sermon Series, Rev. Nic will explain how the vision of UUCCI is interwoven with a national, global, and universal spirit of pluralism, one that we embody in all that we do together at UUCCI, on the interfaith campus, and wherever our lives take us.

NOVEMBER 17: PETE SEEGER SUNDAY (ALL AGES)

Join us for music and story as we draw inspiration from Pete Seeger's commitment to Justice.

All Ages Service!

NOVEMBER 24: DEFENDING THE TREES OF LIFE (SCOTT RUSSELL SANDERS)

In this time of political and military strife, it's good to be reminded of our capacity for kindness and cooperation. That's what Scott Russell Sanders seeks to do in Small Marvels, his book featuring the Mills family, three generations from kids to grandparents, who live under one roof in the quirky town of Limestone, Indiana. He will share a story from the book about people coming together peacefully and creatively to defend what they love.

MEET OUR GUEST SPEAKER

Scott Russell Sanders

American novelist and essayist

Scott Russell Sanders was born in Memphis, Tennessee. His father came from a family of cotton farmers in Mississippi, his mother from an immigrant doctor's family in Chicago. He spent his early childhood in Tennessee and his school years in Ohio. He earned his undergraduate degree from Brown University and his Ph.D. in English from the University of Cambridge. He spent his teaching career at Indiana University, where he was a Distinguished Professor of English.

Among his more than twenty books are novels, collections of stories, and works of personal nonfiction, including Staying Put, Writing from the Center, Hunting for Hope, and A Private History of Awe. In the past decade he has published A Conservationist Manifesto, his vision of a shift from a culture of consumption to a culture of caretaking; Earth Works, a selection of his best essays from the past thirty years; the novel Divine Animal; Dancing in Dreamtime, a collection of eco-science fiction stories; and Stone Country: Then & Now, a new and enlarged edition of his documentary narrative co-authored with photographer Jeffrey Wolin. His children's books include Aurora Means Dawn, Warm as Wool, Meeting Trees, and The Floating House.

Sanders has received the Lannan Literary Award, the Associated Writing Programs Award in Creative Nonfiction, the Great Lakes Book Award, the Kenyon Review Literary Award, the John Burroughs Essay Award, and the Indiana Humanities Award, among other honors, and he has received support for his writing from the Lilly Endowment, the Indiana Arts Commission, the National Endowment for the Arts, and the Guggenheim Foundation. The Society for the Study of Midwestern Literature named him the 2009 winner of the Mark Twain Award; in 2010 he was named the National Winner of the Glick Indiana Authors Award; in 2011 the Fellowship of Southern Writers presented him with the Cecil Woods, Jr. Award in Nonfiction; and in 2012 he was elected to the American Academy of Arts & Sciences.

“Home is not where you have to go but where you want to go; nor is it a place where you are sullenly admitted, but rather where you are welcomed – by the people, the walls, the tiles on the floor, the followers beside the door, the play of life, the very grass.”

LETTER FROM THE MINISTER

DEAR BELOVEDS,

I hold you all in my heart as we enter November. With the election just days away, the anxiety, uncertainty, and emotions regarding what is to come may feel too much to bear at times. Even the anticipation of when we will find out the result opens new questions of what will happen next—between that point and the inauguration, and then beyond the inauguration. With all of this uncertainty and fear, I want to offer a few reflections on how I am thinking about our community and ministry in the days ahead.

First, in all times, but especially in precarious ones, it is critical to be in touch with your body, your emotions, your soul. When we are in touch with how we are feeling, when we can articulate these feelings, we are able to shape our actions with greater integrity and purpose. I have found a lot of meaning in the book, The Quaking of America: An Embodied Guide to Navigating Our Nation's Upheaval and Racial Reckoning by Resmaa Menakem. The emphasis is on the word embodied. Each chapter includes a series of body practices that can, among other things:

- Build presence and discernment in our bodies
- Settle our bodies during the heat of conflict
- Maintain our safety, sanity, and stability in dangerous situations
- Turn toward instead of on one another

This leads to my second comment which is that while I hope you will all be able to engage in practices that can ground you in these destabilizing times, I hope that we will not forget to turn toward one another in the process. Simply put, we need one another. Regardless of the outcomes and unfolding of the next few months, we will continue to need one another. Likely more than ever. No matter what outcome you hope for, our ministry—this community—UUCCI is a community that must exist, persist, and thrive in a post-election America where the work of love and justice, peace and bridge building will require a doubling, tripling down of our commitments.

Indeed, I want us to remember that we cannot take for granted what will be asked of us in the days ahead. As former UUA president and now minister of the UU Church of Bloomington, the Rev. Susan Frederick Gray, says, “This is no time for a casual faith.” The full quote of this oft spoken mantra comes from her Sunday morning sermon at the 2018 General Assembly, which lays out a two-prong reminder:

“Two things are absolutely clear to me right now. Number one, this is no time for a casual faith or a casual commitment to your values, your community, your congregation, your soul, and your faith. No time for casual faith. And number two, this is no time to go it alone or to think that we are in this alone.”

Beloveds, I believe a great confluence is gathering, a social, political, religious/pluralistic, and moral flowing from multiple points across space and time to meet us in this time and the space. Together we can and I believe will build upon our great history of celebrating love and working for justice in south central Indiana. Together we can and I believe will harness hope and courage to continue to strive toward our vision of being a beacon for diverse religious thought and courageous action. Friends, this is our time and our work; even as we teeter on the brink, we know deep in our bones that our journey is just beginning.

Finally, please do not hesitate to reach out to me if you need anything. I am here to listen. to accompany, and to support you all as we make sense and our way through whatever challenges and blessings are to come.

With Gratitude,

REV. NIC CABLE

UUCCI Minister

FROM THE BOARD

This past month your Board of Trustees spent considerable time working, along with the Treasurer and the Finance Committee, to create a budget that reflects the rising costs of building maintenance and utilities and provides adequate funding for our excellent programs and services. We also held an executive session to go over the UUA annual compensation recommendations and make a determination for salary adjustments for our minister and staff.

We hope you will join us on Sunday, November 3rd, when we will have our annual congregational meeting where we vote on bylaws changes, the 2025 budget and new board members. Interested in becoming a voting member? Check with a current board member or Rev. Nic about becoming a member in time to vote at this important meeting.

The change to the bylaws this year involves the inclusion of the Ends, or as we now refer to them, the Strategic Plan - Imagine 2030. Upon reflection, the board decided that it is not necessary to include the strategic planning as part of the bylaws as these change every 5 years. In fact, Imagine 2030 is a living document that will be added to and revised as the 5-year period evolves. Thus, the vote on the bylaws will be about removing the Ends/Strategic Plan from the bylaws.

Our annual Stewardship Campaign to fund our operating expenses for 2025 will begin November 10th. You will soon be hearing more about our goals, and our hopes to meet those goals through the generosity of our members and friends. Every gift matters, and if everyone gives as they are able, we will have what we need.

How do we learn our religion?

By Louise Hillery

When you're looking for something in an alphabetical list, do you find yourself singing in your brain, "A-B-C-D-E-F-G...H-I-J-K-LMNOP...QRS...TUV...W...XYZ. Now I've said my ABCs. Tell me what you think of me." What else did you learn from songs?

I learned the books of the Bible, the names of Jesus's disciples, the life story of Davy Crockett, the history of the Battle of New Orleans, the phone number of Chicago's largest rug-cleaning service (588-2300-EMPIRE!) and the hope that "We shall overcome someday."

It has been said that people learn more about their religious beliefs from the hymnal than from other sources. I think the reason is that the words we sing stick in our brains much longer than the words we hear. What ear-worm is running through your head today?

From UU hymns I have learned that

- All we kindred pilgrim souls [are] making our way by the lights of the heavens.
- When our heart is in a holy place, we are met with love and amazing grace.
- Sometimes in our lives, we all have pain, we all have sorrow. But if we are wise, we know that there's always tomorrow.
- No one can fill those of your needs that you won't let show.
- Where is our holy church? Where race and class unite as equal persons in the search for beauty, truth, and right.
- We are a justice-seeking people, and we are singing for our lives.

I'd love to hear what great truths you have learned from singing hymns. If you don't like to sing, at least whisper along, and let the words enter your soul. you.

Seedling and Sprouts (infants-preschool) meet every Sunday in the Earth Room with our caregivers to meet new friends, share stories, sing, and play!

Undivided Isle Questers (Kindergarten-4th Grade): We have successfully navigated the Cave of Echoes, Fire Mountain, and Serpent's Cove. We have found the second piece of our map and will be spending our last 5 classes of this year strengthening our problem solving skills, integrity, and increasing our emotional awareness. Join us for games, puzzles, and challenges that we work together to solve.

Do we have what it takes to navigate the challenges, find what is lost, and bring harmony back to the island? Join us for our next adventure and find out!

Join us for music and story as we draw inspiration from Pete Seeger's commitment to Justice.

Green Sanctuary 2024 Update

By Richard Boyce

THE GREEN CORNER

We worked closely with Energy Matters to develop a submission for “Columbus, Indiana Solar for All Project Proposal, A Neighborhood Reliability and Resilience Hub Suitable for Sustainable and Affordable low. & Moderate Living”, and obtained a Solar for All Grant for $7.4M as part of the Grant given by the EPA to the State of Indiana. Unfortunately, the Grant was reduced by 38%, and then “redistributed” with our current Grant level of $5.4M. We are working closely with Energy Matters to try & obtain funding by year end & make the United Way Center “energy independent, saving almost $90K per year in electrical billing, providing electrical subsidies to 3 low income apartment complexes (saving each renter 20% of their bill monthly), and helping to save 7 low income homes at least 20% on their electric bills”.

On Saturday Sept 28th we held the 1st Climate Justice Revival @ UUCI, we:

- Joined in spirit with thousands of UU’s reimagining together a world where all communities thrive
- Created a shared vision of our community thriving to guide our actions
- Collaboratively mapped the challenging realities and possible solutions in our community
- Clarified our individual priorities for action, identified our skills and what brings us joy , grounded in our individual hopes for the future and centered in love .
- Created a clear list of potential actions and individual commitments to joyfully and faithfully transform our communities

After our revival , UU’s together will breath life into our reimagined future through faithful , joyful , and impact actions.

What we did together at the Revival will allow us to take our work out into the World in a transformative way putting LOVE at the center of our Climate actions.

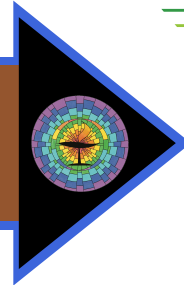

We also had a Climate Panel discussion on Community Solar & how we were working to further the adaption on Solar in Columbus, IN

We have also made major progress in developing a Wild Flower Pollinator area at the church & have supported other efforts in the City. Finally, we are continuing the process of putting together our submission for Green Sanctuary Recertification.
